SUN BEAMS

by WALTER M. BARRETT

Although no official action has been taken and as yet no recommendation made to the Sierra Fish Planting Club, members of the committee appointed to outline a program for the current year have indicated they will urge abandonment of a plan to erect a rearing pond this summer and devote time, efforts and money to the support of the San Francisco Flycasting Club's rearing program and to the elimination of fish enemies in the streams. This action appears to be the only safe course to pursue at this time. The membership of the club is gaining, bu it appears evident that insufficient funds will be available to promote the rearing pond, raise the fish and at the same time carry out the much needed campaign against the destroyers of fish. The State Fish and Game Commission, we feel certain, will look with far more favor upon our willingness to cooperate in protecting the thousands of fish they plant each year than in our efforts to augment these thousands with the comparatively small number we might successfully raise with our limited resources. Regardless of the program to be followed, however, more members and more money must be obtained if we are to support either suggestion. Contact any member or officer of the club and get your card. It is an investment that will return many times its small cost.

For the next two weeks fishermen will scan the sky and keep a watchful eye on the rise and fall of the Truckee River and nearby streams as they anxiously await the opening of the trout season on Wednesday morning, May 1, just 12 days away. Present outlook is for an ideal opening day. The streams are in good condition and barring more storms should be about right for the bait users, with fly fishing still in doubt. At any rate it is high time to get out the old equipment and get it in shape, for rain or shine, May 1 comes only once a year and regardless of weather or water fishing is fishing.

The entire district, but especially the North end of Lake Tahoe will grieve the loss of Harold Paine, a popular resident and community booster of Kings Beach who was killed last week in a tragic auto mishap. Paine was always active in affairs for the good of the region and his loss will not be easy to replace.

With the work of the volunteer cleanup group rapidly nearing an end and with a job long needed almost complete, the question may well be asked how we are going to keep the town clean. Some members of the sanitary board, the only group empowered to do the task, have indicated they will take steps to maintain the streets and alleys in at least a decent manner. It's too much to expect that the volunteers whose work has been so well done will continue in the capacity which rightfully belongs to an elected organization.

The fact that the chamber of commerce works constantly and through suggestion rather than definite deeds probable gave voice to the thought of a member recently when he suggested a detailed report of the varied activities of the chamber be given. In expressing himself, the member called attention to a score of accomplishments of the booster body. We certainly concur. While often the work of the chamber does not bring drastic and immediate results which should not be anticipated, the work nevertheless has gone forward and it will be a pleasure to present the report.

TRUCKEE CHAMBER PETITIONING FOR COUNTY LIBRARY

Cooperating with other sections of the county, the Truckee Chamber of Commerce this week was having a petition circulated calling upon the board of supervisors to take steps to establish a county library.

The idea is not a new one here and from time to time during the past several years efforts have been made to have the library established so that a branch might be obtained for Truckee.

Three years ago costs were gone into and it was found that the expense involved would be small in comparison to the good which might result.

It is understood that other sections of the county are preparing similar petitions directed to the supervisors.

Murder Combine Nabbed By State Police Near Here

Mother Held As Leader After Confessions Made By Gang

BODY OF VICTIM FOUND

Two Murders, Robberies Are Linked With Arrest Of Five

Acting upon advises received from Sacramento, state patrolmen Sunday arrested five members of an alleged gang of slayer and robbers, led by a middle-aged woman, who were attempting to leave the state. The arrests were made by Patrolman A. C. Barrick who with Deputy Sheriff N. F. Dolley took the five adults and the two small children to Grass Valley where confessions of murder and wholesale robberies were obtained.

Confessions were verified yesterday when the body of Robert Sherrod, a one-time member of the gang was found in the Sacramento where the slayers said it was put to keep him from telling of the murder of a San Francisco store keeper two weeks ago.

Officers were tipped off by Albert Ives, 23, reputed gunman for the gang who left his companions at Colfax fearing they would kill him.

The gang was said to have been headed by Mrs. Juanita (The Dutchess) Spinelli, 50, who had with her her 19 year old daughter, Lorraine (Gypsy) Spinelli and two children of tender years. Nabbed with Mrs. Spinelli and her family were Gordon Hawkins, 21, alleged car thief and involved in the two known murders and Mike Simeone, 32, the so-called case man, who is supposed to have linedup the places to be robbed.

All were described as hardened criminals, even the two small children who had been employed as decoys in robbing cars which stopped when they posed as hitchhikers on the roads.

A small calibre revolver and three blackjacks were discovered in the bag carried by Mrs. Spinelli.

Sherrod, an 18 year old youth who is said to have witnessed the killing of the San Francisco man, was given a mickey fin in a Sacramento hotel room a few nights ago and his body was taken to the Freeport Bridge and tossed into the river by Ives and Hawkins, it was reported by the confessions.

HAPPY HOOLIGAN NATION

Depreciation of the value of foreign currency results in corresponding decrease in the duty based on value on imports from that country. Depreciation of the pound sterling gives the Unitd Kingdom a great advantage in the American market. Large increases in British exports to this ocuntry are recorded.

In the meantime, American agricultural products are shut out of the British market. In 1939 these exports were $95,120,389 less than in 1938. France followed England in barring American agricultural products, and these exports to France were $8,000,000 less in 1939 than in 1938.

A greater shrinkage of American agricultural exports to England and France is in prospect as a result of the embargo upon cotton. Omitting cotton exports, there was a slump of $78,707,000 in exports of American agricultural products to England and France combined, between the outbreak of war and February 1 of this year.

Because of reduced duties under the trade agreement, made still lower by depreciation of the pound, England's sales to the United States are increasing, particularly in cotton yarns and cloth and woolen fabrics. These manufactures are in direct competition with American industry.

The British-American trade agreement work to the advantage of England and the disadvantage of the United States. This agreement prove once more that the admistration has made Uncle Sam the Happy Hooligan of nations—the generous soul who promotes the good-neighbor policy by assisting his friends to steal his shirt.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK

The luckiest day of the year for California fishermen is happily almost upon us. Rods and reels and leaders are being checked, cement is being applied solicitously to loose ferrules, guides are being wound over, box trays cleaned and oiled. For on May 1 the California trout season opens. And it's a lucky day when a man heads from workaday worries, from the world of neckties and pressed trousers, from the world of every-day shaves and shoeshines, to whip the tumbling waters and challenge the finny warriors. In the high Sierra's teeming trout streams most amateur Waltons catch the limit. But even for those who fail to locate the hot spots where they're biting, the glorious, tingling, happy-go-lucky season's opening is a day to be looked forward to and to be remembered—a real day of fisherman's luck.

A lot of internationalists in the United States claim that Europeans are more cultured than we. Maybe so, but at least Americans have had enough sense to keep out of war.--Clear Lake (Iowa) Reporter

The Man At The Keyhole

by OPERATIVE WB

Veteran U. S. Senator Hiram W. Johnson, who has no particular desire to go tilting at windmills, is watching California's presidential primary race with more than ordinary interest. If Lieutenant Governor Patterson's ticket runs third or fourth as the betting gentry are predicting, Hiram will relax and make ready for his regulra summer outing. Mr. Patterson is Mr. Johnson's most-ambitious opponent.

That new special session of the Legislature, scheduled to open on May 13, will be as brief as the lawmakers can make it—probably lasting not more than two weeks. The boys have had time to make up their minds (and talk to the home folks) and they're not in a mood for dallying.

Perhaps the third time will end it, but our spy reports that California will again be faced with a battle royal ove rthe Ham and Eggs pension proposal this fall. Weakened by two defeats (the last by a smashing majority), the scrip-tease pension scheme still has enough followers, according to all indications, to qualify for a place on the November ballot.

Henry and Clarence Vernon while consolation tokens went to Mrs. C. W. Vernon and Bud Walker. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pomin, Florence Vernon, Gene Walker and A. M. Henry.

believe the people of the United States have the sovereign right to demand his continued leadership."

There likely would be disagreement from Republicans and Garnerites to the clause that "with infinite patience he has led the nation from the depths of depression." These same forces snicker at the word "harmony" in the third term ticket. Regardless, the slate is a strong one and will figure largely in the running May 7.

State Senator J. C. Garrson, a member of the Olson-Roosevelt slate, had this to say in behalf of thrid termers:

"President Roosevlet's overwhelming vicotry in Illinois and the splendid complimentary vote in Nebraska indicates clearly that the people want the reelection of President Roosevelt and they will not be deterred by third term superstitions".

Not so much noise is heard from the forces seeking the recall of Governor Olson but considerable steam

CORD WOOD INDUSTRY WAS MAJOR ACTIVITY DURING EARLY HISTORY

The following is another excerpt from The Tourist Guide and Directory to the Truckee Basin, published at the Truckee Republican office by C. F. Edwards, publisher, in 1883.

The wood business of the Basin is no small part of its source of wealth. As is natural in every country where sawmills abound, and lumber is made, cord wood forms a principal adjunct. Many large trees fifty and eighty feet high are cut down from which only one good saw log, perhaps 20 feet long, or less, can be obtained, the remainder is cut up into firewood and not left to rot on the ground. Again, the lumberman selects his trees, and after cutting, a great many trees are left that are worthless save for wood. The woodchopper has the advantage of the means of transporation prvided by the mill men and fails not to use it. The flume syctem so universal in this section renders the wood business particularily profitable. There is no hauling to market. The flume takes it from the forest and deposits it near the railroad track and thus save to the producer and consumer as well, the great expense that would attend did it have to be hauled on wagons. As a result wood for fuel is cheap and plentiful. The Central Pacific with its large number of engines consume vast quantities. Car load after car load is shipped to the valley west and the county seat and piled in their woosheds for use during the year. Something of the idea of the contribution of the Truckee Basin to this demand may be gleaned by knowng that Bronco furnished last season 3,000 cords; Prosse Creek, 5,000; Martis Creek, 6,000; Truckee, 18,000; Donner boom, 4,000; Donner lake side, 3,000; Champion's, 3,000; Kneeland's mill, 3,000; in all 45,000 cords, all of which is purchased by the Central Pacific Railroad company. The winter of '81 and '82 proved a cheap one for the railroad company. It was a mild winter and the snow plows, which are a means of consuming large quantities, did not have much work to do. The best wood is cut in fall and winter, for the reason that the bark holds closer to the wood and the railroad always tries to cantract for the wood cut during the fall and winter months. The labor is principally one by Chinamen, who receive an average wage of $1.50 per cord for cutting and the wood when delivered at the tracks sells for from $3.75 to $4 a cord.

The heaviest contractors in this section are Messrs. Sisson, Crocker and Co. and Elle Ellen, Esq. These men handle large quantities of wood and give it especial attention. A glance at the figues show that the industry is an important one. The supply may said to be never ending and it is beyond the power of man to estimate when it will be exhausted.

DOG VALLEY QUARANTINE STATION MAY BE OPENED

SACRAMENTO, April 18.— Eight seasonal border stations of the department of agriculture will be opened this month and will remain open until the latter part of October, it was announced. Among the stations will be the Dog Valley station near Truckee the Brockway station at Brockway and the Stateline station in El Dorado county.

TRUCKEE WATERSHED MAP IS PREPARED

D. M. Traugh, supervisor of the Mono National Forest, announced a relief map costing about $10,000 and showing the Truckee River watershed is nearing completion in the San Francisco offices under the direction of B. F. Snow, regional forestry chief. The Truckee river map will be exhibited at forestry offices before being taken to Reno permanently.

STATE PREPARING FOR BUSY FIRE SUPPRESSION

Earl Barron, newly appointed fire chief of the state division of forestry announces 263 fire suppression crew members, truck drivers, cooks and similar employes will be hired this month to launch California's 1940 campaign against forest fires.

The state department of finance recently allocated $75,000 to the forestry division for expenditures between April 15 and May 15.

Barron said the first contingent of fire suppression workers, all hired from civil service lists, will be augmented May 1 by an additional 630 individuals. At the peak of the 1939 fire seaon nearly 1600 persons were employed.

New federal restrictions, Barron said, will not permit the CCC crews to assist the state fire fighters unless the latter cannot control tho blazes.

For this reason, Barron said, a greater number of suppression crews will probably be required this year.

EMPLOYE BENEFIT PLAN INAUGURATED BY ACME BREWERIES FOR WORKERS

Far reaching steps to insure employe security in the large organization of Acme Breweries, the west's largest brewing company, were revealed by Karl F. Schuster, president.

Effective at once, Acme Breweries now offers each employe of one-year's service or longer he opportunity to share in the benefits of an unique group-insurance plan, under which the employe receives $1000 protection for life, hospitatization, surgery, accident, health of other benefits.

The result of some years of careful study and planning, the new plan has been perfected jointly by Acme Breweries and a large insurance company. Benefits of the plan will also be enjoyed by employes of the Peerless Yeast Company, a subsidiary of Acme Breweries.

is being created by groups joining in opposition to the recall. One of the latest to take the stump against recall is James Rolph III, unsucessful candidate for lieutenant governor in 1938 and son of California's former Republican governor.

The keynote of the Rolph campaign is that in his opinion there is danger if the recall is successful that a representatve of some of the discredited pension scheme or of the disappointed pressure group may be elected.

With its emphasis on economy, various legislative committees are running into opposition on their expenses during the interim. Chief bone of contention is the expense allowance of $8 per day while serving on the committee, plus 5½ cents mileage. State records to date show expenses of about $10,000, with a balance of around $35,000, most of which will be consumed before the inquiries are ended.

Light that is glaring brightness or that is dim and gloomy makes hard work of seeing. It causes squints and frowns and scowls and brings on many premature wrinkles and face-lines.

Good, modern lighting merely means the right kind of light, and the right amount of light where you read or sew or use your eyes. And you can have it easily, quickly, inexpensively.
